ROBBERS FORCE CASHIER TO OPEN BANK VAULTS; SECURE $3,000

THRILLS FURNISHED BY PISTOL BATTLE

Chief of Police John Horner, At New Eagle Borough, Engages In Battle With a Suspicious Character — Neither Is Injured

SUSPECT REFUSES TO STOP

An Exchange of Bullets Follows — Monongahela Officers Assist Chief Horner in An Endeavor to Locate the Unknown Man, But Their Efforts Fail

Chief of Police John Horner of New Eagle engaged in a running gun battle with an unknown desperado last night at 11:30 o'clock along the tracks of the Pennsylvania railroad in New Eagle. An exchange of bullets followed the refusal of the suspect to stop. Neither was hurt.

Chief Horner had stepped from the Municipal building, and noticed a man running down the alley which separates the structure from a dwelling. The chief commanded him to stop, and when he refused, gave chase. Following the unknown up the railroad tracks for some distance, the chief again commanded the fellow to stop, but the man turned, and fired a shot directly at the officer. Drawing his revolver, Chief Horner fired at the man, or in his direction, who then turned and fired three shots. Reloading his gun, the minion followed the man up the tracks and fired a final volley of six shots at him as he disappeared near the Monongahela Motor company warehouse.

Lieutenant William Hughes, of the Monongahela police department, was called, and Monongahela officers were dispatched to the lower end of town, but no one suspected of the shooting could be found. With Chief Horner, the minions of the law investigated and searched the vicinity, but their efforts were in vain—no one could be found and no arrests were made.

The actions of the man would indicate that he was intent on burglary, but the appearance of the officer frightened him away before the act was committed.

PLOT TO OVERTHROW A GOVERNMENT IS DETECTED

Rio de Janeiro, Oct. 21.—A widespread plot to overthrow the government has been discovered and the leaders arrested, it was announced officially tonight.

The news, following the three weeks rebellion in Sao Paulo in July, caused a sensation, but the government appeared to have the situation well in hand.

Widespread arrests have been made in connection with the seditious movement designed to overthrow the established authorities, said the official statement.

The plot had been so fully worked out that even cabinet posts in the proposed regime had been distributed.

"The government has had knowledge for some time," the statement said, "of the criminal intentions of

POLICE PUZZLED WHAT TO DO WITH SUSPECTS

New York, Oct. 22.—Puzzled over the disappearance of Mrs. Helen Heyworth, latest victim of New York's jewel robbers, police today were helpless in the prosecution of four men, whose arrest, they believe may lead to clues in the "Dot" King and Louise Lawson murders.

The quartet was arrested early yesterday in possession of a shot-riddled car. A diamond and sapphire ring was found on one of the men which police say has been identified by a friend of Mrs. Heyworth as one stolen from her early Monday morning.

TRIBUNE TO TEST VALIDITY OF A PRESS RULING

The Chicago Tribune today announced it will test validity of the Associated Press's rule prohibiting member newspapers from broadcasting election returns and news matter furnished by the news agency or collected from territory to "which the Associated Press exclusively is entitled."

It is a class between the old and the new, the Tribune declared. The following excerpt of the Associated Press notice, just received by the Tribune, is the hub of the situation:

"You are requested to cooperate in enforcement of the established rules governing the display of bulletins and preventing utilization of radio-broadcasting of Associated Press' returns from your territory to which the Associated Press seeks to prevent the radio dissemination of news by member newspapers—in this case the results of the national election—into the homes of the people. The Tribune will test the validity of this rule," the Tribune declared in part.

The plotters and awaited only the proper time for repressive action.

"When full proof was obtained government agents succeeded in surprising the malcontents, who evidently had planned their outbreak for today."

"The leaders were arrested at a meeting where preparations were being completed for the uprising and compelled to reveal all their plans with the names of persons participating and those who had knowledge of the affair."

BATTLE FOR MONEY OF RICH RECLUSE

Looming as one of the bitterest battles in the history of Westmoreland county courts, the contest over the estate of the late William C. Felger, aged recluse and hermit, who died in his little home hidden in a thicket in Seminary avenue, Greensburg, last June, will be taken up before Judge Snyder on November 8, in an appeal from the probate of Felger's will.

Two days after Felger's death there was admitted to probate, by Register of Wills Edward A. Gremer, a supposedly last will and testament. This instrument bore the date of May 30, 1921. It created the John C. Felger

Fund, but made no disposition of the estate. Later a will dated in November, 1923, was presented to the register of wills for probate, but probate of this will was refused by reason of the fact that one will already was a matter of record. An appeal to the orphan's court was instituted by Charles C. Hileman, the sole legatee named in the will executed in 1923. A citation, directed to all the parties in interest, including the Merchants Trust Co., the executor, requiring them to show cause why the will admitted to probate should not be stricken from the records, was issued.

Lady Dies When Hit By Auto

Miss Edith M. Medley, aged 35, of Maple avenue, North Side, Pittsburgh, daughter of Rev. William Medley, who was pastor of the local Methodist Episcopal church twenty-six years ago, was knocked down by an automobile and died a few minutes after being admitted to the Presbyterian hospital yesterday. Miss Medley, who was employed as cost clerk in the accounting department of the Board of Public Education, was struck by a machine being driven out of a private driveway by Joseph M. Allen, aged 60, of 2421 Perryville avenue. The accident occurred in front of the Allen home on the sidewalk. Allen is being held for the coroner.

Miss Medley was very well known and highly esteemed here and the news of her death is a great shock to her many friends.

Funeral services will take place tomorrow evening at the home of her sister, Mrs. John Richardson, of 2720 Perryville avenue, North Side, Pittsburgh. Interment will take place the following day at Freedom, where Rev. Medley is buried.

NO BLAME TO YOUNG LADY

No blame was attached by the coroner's jury to Miss Ruth Myers, driver of the car that fatally injured Donald E. Libinger, aged four years, on the Pancake hill on October 3, at the inquest held yesterday by Coroner William Greenlee in the court house.

Several children, including the Libinger child, were playing behind a car which had been parked at the side of the highway. The evidence showed that the Libinger child suddenly darted out from behind the machine and directly in front of the car driven by Miss Myers.

All witnesses agreed that the accident was unavoidable. Miss Myers was going up the hill from Washington, and was on her own right side of the road. On the opposite side was parked the car. The children were playing around it. Just as Miss Myers was about to pass this machine the Libinger child darted from behind it directly in front of her. Before she could stop she had struck the boy.

She immediately did everything possible. The child died at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Chris G. Libinger, on October 8. They live directly across the road from the scene of the accident.

Two Bandits Rob Bank At Bolivar

Bolivar, Pa., Oct. 22.—The two bandits who held up the Bolivar bank here during the night, forced the cashier to empty the vaults when he reported for work this morning, and then sped away hotly pursued by a posse of citizens.

The amount stolen was estimated at $3,000.

The bandits forced their way into the bank sometime during the night and after vain attempts to open the vault decided to wait until the cashier arrived. After cashier, S. J. Sutton, opened the vault, he was tied up and thrust into a back room.

The president of the bank, W. B. Hammon, entered shortly after Sutton and resisting was slugged unconscious. The bandits worked quickly and no shots were fired. State police were notified at Greensburg. It was believed the bandits may be headed towards Pittsburgh on the William Penn highway or that they may be fleeing east for Johnstown.

Harrisburg, Pa., Oct. 22.—State police headquarters today received the report that two bandits held up the Bolivar citizens. National Bank and directed Greensburg troops to investigate. The amount reported taken by the bandits was $3,000.

FRENCH TROOPS LEAVING DORTMUND

Dortmund, Germany, Oct. 22.—Throughout the night by the light of roaring blast furnaces, French troops were on the march out of Dortmund. Dawn found evacuation of this important center in full swing, caissons and field pieces rumbling through the cobble-stoned streets while curious German citizens peered from behind window blinds and many could scarcely repress cheers.

Dortmund, the first large Ruhr center to be evacuated, will be cleared of enemy troops by Thursday morning.

Wesel, another city of the occupied area seized by the French and Belgians nearly two years ago, also was evacuated today.

There the burgomaster with difficulty repressed the joy of the inhabitants—fearful lest some untoward demonstration might cause a change of mind on the part of withdrawing troops.

Throughout the Ruhr, the departure of the blue-clad soldiers who have been billeted in towns and cities and become familiar sights since early 1923 was hailed as the dawn of a new era.

The French have ordered all occupied mines, customs offices, and like returned to their owners by October 28. There is no doubt but that the evacuation of the Ruhr has begun in earnest.

Scenes here this morning were of martial, but friendly, activity. Little pyramids of guns in the square and soldiers in full marching equipment sitting on packs awaiting the bugle call to fall in for the trek to the railroad was the sight that greeted early risers. The troops appeared fat and well fed and there were not a few German maidens with tearful faces.

THE VALLEY CLAN IS REORGANIZED

A number of alumni of the Carnegie Institute of Technology, both men and women, met last evening at the Elks club for dinner and for organization. After dinner the gathering was addressed by several of those present.

The talks dealt with the need of a Carnegie clan in this district; with the service which such an organization might render, both to the school and to the community in securing desirable students, and with the history of a similar society which was in existence several years ago.

Eagles And Their Guests to the Number of 300, Enjoy a World Series Banquet Last Night — County Officials Present

W. R. GAUT, TOASTMASTER

Addresses Made By Visitors And Local Men—"Dick" Simon, Scheduled As Toastmaster, Belated In His Arrival, Gives An Address

In fulfillment of their pledges to the winners to serve a banquet, as a sequence to the World Series Baseball games, the Eagles club house in McKean avenue was the scene of a red-letter occasion in the history of the local organization, and the World Series banquet as served by the losers, will be treasured in the minds of all Eagledom, local and visiting, as well as invited guests, as one of the gala events in the pre-winter social amenities. The function last night, if it may be termed, was enjoyed by approximately 300 Eagles, and their invited guests.

At an early hour the beautiful club house was filled with Eagles and their guests, and as each one entered, he was given either a white or red carnation, the flower being symbolic of the winners and the losers in wagers made: the white typifying the winners, and the red carnation, the losers. Music was furnished by the Jenkins orchestra.

The menu consisted of roast turkey, roast chicken, roast pig, sweet and Irish potatoes, cole slaw, and the various accompaniments calculated to suit the tastes of the most fastidious, placed before the banqueters in the most approved epicurean style. The program was largely informal. There was none of the staid formality which so often predominates at banquets, but the democratic spirit was in evidence and the most hearty good will prevailed. In the belated appearance of "Dick" Simon, of New Eagle, who had been selected as toastmaster, William R. Gaut was announced by Secretary J. W. Mathias to fill the post. Mr. Gaut, after a few preliminary remarks, in which he greeted the large assembly in his characteristic vein, introduced as the first speaker Colonel John Aiken of Washington. Mr. Aiken was given an ovation, and at the conclusion of his talk, in which he said that it gave him pleasure to commingle with

THE "ROPE" AND "MANGO" TRICKS.

Though the Hindoo jugglers or "magicians" failed to perform the famous "rope trick" at the recent Wembley Exhibition in England, persons claiming to have seen it are still to be found. The New York Times recently expressed the belief that no such persons existed, and cited a book on "Indian Conjuring," in which the author, Major Branson, who spent 23 years as an army surgeon in India, declares that he was never able either to witness the "rope trick" himself or find any one who had seen it done among either native or foreign persons whom he regarded as veracious. This brought a letter to the Times from Long Island City signed "W. H. K.," which read in part as follows: "I witnessed it, together with several other Americans, in Colombo, Ceylon, in 1904 or 1905. The boy climbed the rope, drew it up out of sight and soon after reappeared at the side of the magician. So impressed were we with the performance that it was the chief topic of conversation for several days."

In this trick the Hindoo juggler throws a rope into the air and it hangs taut as if attached to an invisible object, then he or his assistant climbs up it, draws it up after him as he disappears, and soon drops dismembered into a basket from which he shortly steps forth whole and smiling. It has been suggested that the "trick" failed in England because the critical audience could not be hypnotized. In the rather less mysterious "mango trick" a mango seed is planted in a little mound of earth and covered with a cloth. After incantations the cloth is removed and a little live mango tree is seen, which, with further coverings and incantations grows about three feet high and even bears fruit. Major Branson's explanation is that the juggler is provided with a fresh mango twigs of several sizes which he sticks into the earth under the cloth at intervals. But even to do that without detection by an audience in the open would be a remarkable performance.

DOLAN'S SUIT AGAINST LANDIS MAY NOT SURVIVE LEGAL TEST

William J. Fallon, Cozy Dolan's lawyer, who threatens to sue Judge Landis on Dolan's behalf, may be only mumbling through his millinery after all.

When Fallon announced that he was determined to make Landis refund Dolan's share of the world series money and pay for the damage to Cozy's reputation, it appeared that the lawyer had a fine opportunity to embarrass the major league club owners. However, some of the well informed men of baseball called attention to the fact that Dolan waived all his rights when he signed the regular ball players' contract as a coach for the New York Giants. The uniform players' contract contains a clause in which the player agrees to place himself under the discipline of the leagues and to abide by all decrees of Landis.

Dolan and Jimmy O'Connell, both of the New York Giants were fired out of organized baseball and deprived of their world series money because O'Connell tried to bribe Heinie Sand of the Phillies to throw a ball game. O'Connell accused Dolan of "putting him up to it" and Dolan when asked about it by Landis, said, "I don't remember."

DODGERS MAY GET GROH FOR DUTCH REUTHER

If the Giants and the Brooklyn Dodgers can forget their unwritten rule against trading across the bridge Dutch Reuther, the Dodger's southpaw may go to the Giants and Heinie Groh, the Giants' third baseman, may go to the Dodgers.

Reuther was the star left-hander of the Cincinnati Reds in the season of 1919 when they won the pennant. He slumped after that and the Dodgers got him. In one season he won 21 games for Brooklyn but he has always found it hard to harmonize with the owners of the team.

The Giants need all the pitchers they can get and Reuther, although he had a poor season in 1924, might return to his old form under the handling of John McGraw. On the other hand, the Giants are ready to dispose of Groh. Heinie is still one of the greatest infielders in the game, but he is growing old and McGraw intends to replace him with Freddie Lindstrom, the 19-year-old Chicago high school player, who starred in the world series.

The Giants and Dodgers have not been on trading terms for a long time because both clubs draw their customers from the one big city and intra-urban trades are considered unethical.

Leslie Morgan, veteran guard of the Charlottesville High School Football team, is suffering from an infected arm. Morgan played the Monessen game on Saturday with a boil on his arm. After the game he reported in good condition, but on Sunday swelling set in and it is reported that his arm at present is badly infected. This is a heavy blow to the Charlottesville team, as Morgan is one of the most dependable men on the squad. How soon he will be ready to return to school is problematical.

Charles DeHainant, center on the team, is still confined to his home. DeHainant was hurt in the Rochester game, but reported Friday before the Monessen game, claiming he had completely recovered. During the third quarter on Saturday he was again injured, receiving a heavy blow on the head. He will not be out for a week, according to reports. Coach DeHainant has not yet succeeded in cancelling a previous engagement for Saturday evening, but if he does make arrangements that will permit him to participate in the feast, it is perfectly safe to assume he would not choose that time for entering into any controversy.

MALONE-WALKER AND BERLENBACH - M'TIGUE LEADING FIGHT CARDS

The fight famine in the East has become so ghastly that the promoters have now been reduced to a mixed division, non-championship, no-decision bout between Mickey Walker and Jock Malone as the principal meal of the early indoor season. Walker and Malone are to meet in the Newark armory on October 29 and the backers of the show are having a desperate job to make it seem important.

Malone is a middleweight so Walker's welterweight championship will not be at issue, inasmuch as Malone isn't the middleweight champion, the bout will mean considerably less than one-tenth of one per cent of nothing whatever.

The best match Tex Rickard has been able to land for the Garden is one that wouldn't have been regarded as a good curtain-raiser in the prosperous days of the fight business only four years ago. This is the match between Paul Berlenbach and Mickey M'Tigue, the timid light-heavyweight champion of the world. The winner is to meet Gene Tunney but Tunney sweeps off a spot on the floor and throws himself for a faint whenever the name of Tommy Gibbons is mentioned.

FUR WILL NOT FLY IF JUDGE ACCEPTS BID TO BIG FEAST

Since the committee in charge of the banquet which will be held next Saturday night in honor of Barney Dreyfuss, president of the Pittsburgh baseball club, made the announcement that Commissioner Kenesaw Mountain Landis had been invited to attend the affair, many fans have apparently taken it for granted that the dinner will resolve itself into a wholesale hair-pulling match. This idea arises from the reports of a recent incident at Washington, D. C., where the owner of the Pirates and the high lord of baseball met by chance in a hotel and exchanged a few heated remarks whereby a breach was created in the friendship that had existed between the two.

Should Judge Landis accept the invitation and sit at the festal board it is a foregone conclusion that he would enter into the spirit of the occasion and join in complimenting the Pittsburgh magnate upon his 25 consecutive years at the head of a ball team which has finished 21 times in the first division, winning four pennants and one world's championship. The commissioner has not yet succeeded in cancelling a previous engagement for Saturday evening, but if he does make arrangements that will permit him to participate in the feast, it is perfectly safe to assume he would not choose that time for entering into any controversy.

CLAIM MADE VALLEY CONSTABLES GUILTY OF EXTORTION

Pittsburgh, October 22.—An extortion ring involving constables and magistrates of the Monongahela valley district, who are alleged to have collected thousands of dollars in a scheme of giving official protection for bootleggers, is believed broken today with the arrest of five men.

Eight other arrests are expected as the result of an investigation being made by Chief of County Detectives, Robert Braun.

The suspects taken into custody are Harry Kirmeyer, constable of Clairton; J. R. Simpson, constable of East Elizabeth; Joseph Myers, Robert Hollow, and Robert Patterson, the latter three the alleged "go-betweens."

The arrests followed the complaints of several men of Forward township, who claimed they paid hundreds of dollars for protection.

Dr. Dorten, who tried to form a Rhineland republic and is now in this country on business, is quoted as saying that "the Germans like order—they want to be told what to do." Why the Rhinelanders failed to do what Dr. Dorten told them to do is not stated.

If you can't push, pull; if you can't pull, please get out of the way.

You Can Drive It All Day Without Fatigue

What the group of Maxwell-Chrysler engineers responsible for the good Maxwell of today have accomplished is just this—

They have raised four-cylinder motoring to a plane of fineness and comfort heretofore assumed to be impossible in a car of this type.

They have accomplished it not alone through the insistence on fine manufacturing and the use of first grade materials. They have also employed engineering innovations that practically eliminate vibration and otherwise perfect performance and riding quality.

You will especially appreciate these higher qualities when you make a country run of considerable distance.

Where you used to return from such a trip thoroughly weary, now with the good Maxwell you can drive all day without fatigue.

And as for dependable, care-free, economical service, the good Maxwell still leads all cars at anywhere near its price.

We are pleased to extend the convenience of time-payments. Ask about Maxwell's attractive plan.

Savings Deposits

There are many people who delay the opening of a Savings Account because they feel that a small deposit will not be welcome and that it is better to wait until they have accumulated a considerable sum. Too often they keep on waiting.

The First National Bank wants you to know that we welcome Savings deposits in any amount from $1.00 upwards and that the size of the account does not matter so much. The REGULARITY with which you save means more to us—and to you—than the amount deposited.

FRENCH DON'T LIKE LA FOLLETTE

Paris, October 22—The French attitude toward the American elections is this—they don't care who beats LaFollette.

Aside from open opposition to the Wisconsin senator, Frenchmen had taken only moderate interest in the campaigns in the United States until J. P. Morgan let it be known today that there was "nothing doing" on a loan until the result of the November 4th balloting was known. Interest picked up at once.

Even at that, the interest is less than in 1920, when Cox and Harding were battling for the presidency.

There are three reasons why Frenchmen oppose La Follette's election:

ERECT ADDITION TO CARE FOR THE INFLOW OF PUPILS

At the end of the first semester of this year's school term, Superintendent Thomas M. Gilland and members of the Donora Board of Education met in conference with a congested condition which may result in the building of an addition to the First Street structure in that borough.

During the past summer vacation period the study hall at the First Street building was converted into four classrooms, this step being necessary to take care of the increased enrollment in the school, and a portion of the hall is being used for chapel purposes at this time. The building is now taxed to capacity as are also all the other buildings of the district.

At the close of the first Semester early in the coming year more than 100 pupils will have completed their grade work and will enter the Junior High school and will be sent to the First Street building. Just what will be done with them when they report is what is causing the officials of the district concern at the present time.

Conducting a high school without an auditorium is an almost impossible task yet that is what the Donora faculty is now being forced to do, and a way out of the difficulty is being sought.

One proposition which would give relief and temporarily at least solve the problem, would be to erect a new wing to the First Street building to be used as an auditorium with one or two additional class rooms. The wing would extend to Castner Avenue and would solve the high school problem for several years to come and permit of handling it on an efficient basis.

BANQUET AT CLUB HOUSE BIG SUCCESS

The assembly at a banquet so replete with the substantial and delicacies of the season, he was followed by Elmer Johnston, of Washington. Mr. Gaut then called upon Chief of County Detectives William B. Dinmore, Councilman William Lewis, Sergeant Cohee, Deputy Sheriff William Baker, Ody Abbott, the ex-big league, former councilman John Kern, and J. Edgar Masters, also all of the county seat, who responded in congratulatory and happy vein.

One of the features was the rendition of a solo by Louis Brusa, president of the Charleroi Aerie, in which the concourse joined in the chorus.

John Jenkins then gave his inimitable characterization of the man of foreign persuasion, who attended for the first time a baseball game at Forbes field.

Tom P. Sloan was then introduced as the "silver-tongued orator of the Monongahela valley," and as usual he well sustained his reputation as an impromptu orator, and after-dinner speaker. One of the features of his address was the very flattering testimonial which he paid Colonel Aiken.

By this time "Dick" Simon, the featured toastmaster arrived on the scene, and favored, not only with a felicitous address, but proved his versatility in song.

Letters of regret of inability to be present, owing to other engagements, were received from Judge J. Boyd Crumrine, Hans Wagner and others.

The closing talk was made by Burgess J. Bryant Tussing, after which the concourse took the piano to the basement of the building and whiled the hours away with merriment and song.
